Raising moving expenses

Furlough has been long and I am so looking forward to returning to Estonia. In March, we are planning to return to renew our residence papers and then come back to the USA for Candice to graduate high school and get her settled into college and to get Corissa settled with a host family to finish her senior year in high school. After the girls are settled comes all the packing, moving, and the dreaded goodbyes and tears. That said, we are needing to raise moving expenses. Our residency will cost $250, plane tickets and luggage will be $7,000, moving truck rental here and in Estonia will be $800, and 3 months rent for a deposit on an apartment in Estonia will be $1,500 to $2,000 adding up to $10,050.

Additional Support Needed

Our support is still not up where it needs to be but we are still praying God will provide a way to return to Estonia. The Euro is down so that does help some but for how long, we don't know.

Need For a Van ($10,000)

A newer van is still needed for our ministry. Our orange 1995 Transporter Volkswagen is still putting along but is needing more and more TLC.

Family News

School is going good for our kids and they have accomplished so much. We are very proud of them. Candice (18) had 2 pieces of her art work put in a gallery at Lindenwood University in St. Louis and has been accepted to Liberty University to study Art. Corissa (16) sang in St. Louis County Honor Choir and is doing great in the Biomedical program at her high school. Both girls sang with the choir in the Macy's Holiday Concert with the St. Louis Symphony. Phillip (12) is finally adjusting to middle school, and as many boys, he excels in computer games. :) God has really blessed them with talent and opportunities. Please continue to pray for a host family for Corissa to finish high school and for Candice as she transitions to Liberty U.

PRAISE
THE LORD!!!

1. Candice and Corissa given great opportunities to use their talents.
2. God blessing our time in the U.S.A.
