To open their eyes, to turn them from darkness to light ... that they may receive forgiveness of sins... Acts 26:18

* Move Out Move In

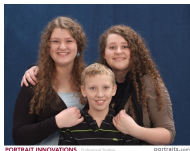

August was filled with visiting 3 churches; packing up our house in St. Louis; having a garage sale; packing up Candice and moving her to Virginia for her freshman year of college; packing up Corissa and moving her to her host family in St. Louis to finish high school; moving our boxes to Springfield to store; and saying goodbye to our 2 daughters, family, friends, and our sending church. Needless to say, it was a busy time, full of emotions.

September came with visiting our last church and packing our suitcases. Many friends rallied around us and helped us through the packing and the emotional rollercoaster we were on leaving 2 kids behind. We thank God continually for your love and prayers toward us during this time. We boarded a plane with the peace of God in our hearts knowing our girls were happy and we were all in God's hands. The rest of September was set to finding an apartment (God gave us a great apartment Lisa loves) and moving our stuff from storage (2nd floor) to our 3rd floor apartment (no elevators). Then, we begin the task of putting all the wardrobes, bookshelves, and beds together.

October was spent setting up and starting homeschool for Phillip, street evangelism, and contacting previous contacts. I was able to get a meeting scheduled with the ping pong factory to help them with English using a salvation booklet. I was also able to get in contact with Katerina and will meet her next week (she is back in Narva) and see about discipling her. Please pray God will work and we'll see salvations and growth in Christians.

*Family News

Candice is doing great at college and adjusting well. Corissa is loving her host family and also doing an amazing job in school. She even earned a spot for state tryouts for honor choir! Thanks so much for all your prayers in the big transition our family has gone through. It has made a difference!
